URSA MAGNA

The changing times at Tri Valley

Foreword

The Senior Class is happy to present the eighth annual yearbook, "Ursa Magna '59."

For our theme we have chosen "The Changing Times at Tri-Valley."

This book commemorates in part, our debt to the past and obligation to the future. The wish of this class is that many glorious chapters may be added to annals of the Tri-Valley Central School and that its students will have as full a share as we of its rich and sustaining memories.

Dedication

This book is dedicated to the unquiet mind of man which forever seeks for light and new dimension, and to those who seek to keep this flame alive. We further dedicate our efforts to the hope that Tri-Valley will always stand as a beacon to those who seek refuge from the darkness of prejudice, ignorance, and ill will.

Principal's Message

One of the greatest distinguishing characteristics of post-graduation days in comparison with those of school life lies in the making of decisions. What have appeared to you as major matters for decision--whether you should go to a dance, or whether you should join a sports team, and so forth--will begin, after graduation, to pale into inconsequentiality as each day goes along. Now, you will have to make decisions more implicating, more complicated, more consequential for you. Marriage, work pursuit, raising a family, investments, personal health--these factors of life do not lend themselves to quick, easy decisions.

To the future "decision-makers," may we offer you the advice of the poet who said:

"If you think you are beaten, you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't,
If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost certain you won't!

If you think you'll lose, you've lost,
For out in the world you'll find
Success begins with a fellow's will--
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are out-classed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the man who THINKS he can!"

May one of your decisions of future days be that of visiting your alma mater, to say "hello" to those of us who remain behind with fond memories of your days at TVS! God speed you!

Sincerely,

W. E. Ross

Class Highlights

The Class of '59 began its odyssey in September 1946, in the old school, which has recently come to be known as the "Ag. building"; the following year we attended second grade in the Child's building, which is no longer standing. Third grade found us in the Whitley House, now the Wm. Goldsmith residence; and the "Ag. building" again welcomed us in our fourth year. Fifth grade marked an important advancement in our education when we moved into the new building. The rooms weren't finished (no heat, only beams for ceilings), but we were certainly proud of our new home.

Before we entered high school we had visited Hyde Park, home of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Vanderbilt Mansion, Washington's Headquarters in Newburgh, and West Point. All of these trips were both educational and enjoyable.

In our first two years of high school, we sponsored traveling bake sales, which were very successful. Our Junior Prom, "Japanese Nocturne," proved to be one of the most outstanding and elegant events of our high school career, both financially and socially. We changed tradition by surprising fellow students, families, and faculty with a buffet supper. Norm Loeffel furnished fine music for dancing, which was enjoyed by everyone.

This, our last year at Tri-Valley, has been a truly wonderful one, and we have many pleasant memories of it to carry with us in the future. Our play, "Charley's Aunt," was another unmistakable success, under the excellent direction of Mrs. Hill. We worked hard, but we were well rewarded and we had a lot of fun doing it.

On December 15, we gave the Grahamsville Fire Department their annual dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Schulte and Mrs. Hamilton, of the cafeteria staff, Mrs. Allotta, and Miss White helped to make this a success. Again we worked hard, but it was a lot of fun as well.

"Winter Wonderland," our last outstanding activity, added a great deal of Christmas spirit and a good time was had by all. The Tri-Valley "Ballroom" was artistically decorated and Norm Loeffel again furnished the music.

Through all of these "successes," there is one person who seconded us all the way, Mr. Condon. His encouragement, as our homeroom advisor for the last two years, is deeply appreciated.

Now we are approaching graduation. Although we have decreased in number, our class spirit has increased through the years. To those who read this book, this page may not seem very important. But to the Class of '59, to those who have laughed and cried together in the face of different situations, it is very special. This is OUR class, and we'll never forget it.

"Fanny Babs, you duffer!"

"You wouldn't hit a Grandmother would you?"

"Well, I don't see much in that"

"Ta-Ta, I'm off"

"Oh, Auntie!"

"But girls you don't know the REAL me!"

"The cups Dona Lucia, where are the cups?"

"What did you expect, a Bikini?"

"Grandmother, what big eyes you have!"

"Have you been drinking?"

Class Will

Brooke - bequeatheth her poetry books to James Magie.
Dan - leaves his sleeping pills to Bill Hornbeck.
Jack - leaves his Hollywood Mufflers to Miss Kelly.
Mary C. - leaves her caloric counter to Mr. Hurley.
Fred Clark the Fourth - leaves to Fred Gilles the Fifth.
Francis - leaves his initials on every third desk.
Jacob - wills his repair manual to Dick Forest, also a set of plugs.
(Percherons)
Bob I. - leaves his quiet ways to Clara Cuttler. (Ed. For what?)
Bill G. - leaves his sense of humor to Craig Duncan.
Bev - leaves her needle to Betty Clark.
Myrna - leaves her worries about little things to Earl Coddington.
Patsy - leaves the horse postal to Mrs. Anderson.
Roseann - leaves her twenty study halls to Linda LaPolt.
Darleene - leaves her smile monopoly to Joan Grey.
Jean - leaves her ability to ride horses to Mr. Condon.
Sharon - leaves her philosophy to Gene Walter.
Jim K. - leaves his punctuality record to Bill Holmes.
Mary Mc. - leaves her ability to chatter to Joan Bowers. (Who needs it?)
Theresa - wills her dignity to Lorraine Demetry.
Julianne - leaves her athletic ability to Clark Brown.
Carol - leaves her formulae to Miss Clairol.
Lillian - leaves before the auditors come.
Philip - leaves his rechargeable flashlight to the Science Room.
Mary L. - leaves her purple nail polish to the purple nail eaters.
The Senior Class - leaves its solemnity to the Juniors.

In Addition, the Seniors leave their roadmaps, trysting places, smoking gowns and all other academic paraphernalia to the unwary. ("Fools rush in")

As a final bequest we leave the leadership of the high school to the Juniors. "All hope abandon, ye who enter here."

Class Prophecy

As we look into the future we see the Class of '59 carrying out their daily schedules in the Space Age.

The first scene we look in on is the office of Myrna Altman, Dr. of Psychology, assisted by her competent nurse, Bev Allen, trying to find out what makes those little green men tick.

Visitors to Mars can spend a thrilling evening at the biggest night spot in the universe, Jack Buswell featuring the great comedy team of the "Merry Marys" (Mary Carr, Mary Leonard, and Mary McGuire), and his soloist, Patsy Banta, who has the number one tune on the Mars Hit Parade, "Glow Little Earthling."

Also featured at Jack's Moonlight Hacienda, is Dan Bologna, who has just won the universal sleep marathon. He is known as the "Rip Van Winkle" of Mars.

Theresa McGuire is found designing those newest fashions of the Space Age, in the employment of J.M. Krum (Jim to us). Of course, Jim picks the Models!!!

Brooke Anderson (the speedy one of typing class) is found skimming over the keys of her platinum typewriter, in the Ingram Cosmic Insurance Agency.

Bill Goldsmith is selling slightly used rockets from Clark's Rocket Follies.

Rose Ann Bowers is seen cheering for the World All-Star Basketball team in the Interplanetary Playoff, with the first female "hoopster," Julianne Nash, who holds the World's Foul Shooting Championship.

Jean Goode is now manager of the Jeanie-Ed Riding Academy.

Lillian Smith is hostess of the Martian Naval Entertainment Program. She is assisted by Sharon Hamilton and Darleene Decker who are universally known for their bewitching smiles.

Carol Rosenthal has opened the first Betty Crocker Kitchen on Mars.

Jacob Frank is harnessing the sun's energy for a special solar range to replace Carol's old-fashioned electric one.

Francis Distel is checking his trap lines, only this time, they are on Mars. His Martian mink skins are made into lovely Space coats for J. M. Krum's models.

Orator H. P. West is now lecturing on the topic "Eighteen foot Martian citizens should be given the right to vote."
